TUESDAY, JUNE 27, 1876.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Senator Blaine leaves Washington for Augusta, Maine, to-day, with his family, in a special car.

The Oceanian, which arrived at San Francisco from Hong Kong yesterday, brought but five Chinese.

Eight new cases of small pox were reported in San Francisco during the past two days.

The people of San Bernardino held a meeting on Saturday evening for the purpose of devising ways and means for connecting themselves with the Los Angeles & Independence Railroad. A committee was appointed to confer with the Company, and over one hundred thousand dollars subscribed.

The dead lock in Congress begins to assume prominence with Washington correspondents. The Tribune thinks that a compromise is not now likely, and that the government will be without funds after July 1st.

A large and enthusiastic reception was given to Gov. Hayes at Fremont, Ohio, Saturday night. A large delegation, consisting of military companies and citizens, with bands of music met him on his arrival. He made a long speech.

Booth and Wiggin's bill to confirm California school indemnity sections has excellent prospects for enactment, unless lack of time prevents its being reached. The California delegation in both houses are unanimous in its support.

Nothing has been done in Congress this week concerning the Chinese question. There is considerable comment here upon the letter published in San Francisco from Commissioner Rosch recounting his achievements in Washington, and saying the delegation are not harmonious. Rosch was often seen about the corridors of the Capitol and upon the floor of the House, apparently very busy.

The Times says the failure of the Conference Committee causes much anxiety. Randall will not go to St. Louis, and it is believed here that his refusal to go, on the ground that his presence at Washington is necessary for the success of the appropriation bills, is only a pretense.

THE NAME of our townsmen, Ex-State Gauger, General JOHN R. BRIERLY, appears in the list of Vice-Presidents of the late San Francisco HAYES ratification meeting.

party, and remembering only those pure Democratic principles the adherence to which made this the greatest of great nations, they will give us a declaration of intention that all will endorse and select men to carry out those intentions in whom all will have confidence. These things they may do. That they will truly and faithfully perform the task assigned them we sincerely hope.

The First Positive Signs.

In the announcement that in consequence of his continued ill health, BLAINE will retire to the quiet of his home in Maine and take no part in the Presidential campaign, we discover the first positive indication of the dissatisfaction felt by a large proportion of the Republican party over the defeat of that gentleman and the nomination of a man to fame and fortune unknown. As we get further along we shall find that CONKLING and BRISTOW are taking no interest in the fight beyond a secret desire to see HAYES defeated. The President's heart is not in it, and, while he will not openly oppose HAYES, his chagrin over the summary manner in which his favorite was disposed of by the Convention is so great that he will not give the ticket that cordial and energetic support he would have had CONKLING been the nominee. GRANT had flattered himself that he would name the candidate, and to a certain extent he was not mistaken. DON CAMERON nominated HAYES, but he only accepted him when the utter impossibility of nominating CONKLING became apparent, and the certainty that BLAINE would be chosen if the fight went on, could not longer be overlooked.

GRANT was permitted to name the candidate on the condition that he would not name CONKLING. Disguise it as best they can, the Republican leaders cannot hide the fact that the defeat of BLAINE has sown seeds of discontent in their party which will produce a crop of dissension that cannot but weaken HAYES. The congratulatory and support promising messages sent to HAYES by BLAINE, GRANT, BRISTOW and others, were hollow protestations—promises made to be broken.

Letter from Mr. Potts.

EDITOR HERALD:—The Republican of the 24th inst. speaks of the proceedings of our City Council in refusing to build bridges on Temple street as an act of great injustice, as it certainly is, and urges as a reason why they should build the bridges asked for (not to say anything about the wrong to others) the great increase of the value of the city, and thus increasing the city's resources, which is certainly a very good reason why it should be done if the Council had the interests of the city in view. But if you will examine a little further into their official proceedings you will see that the Council as a body pay no attention to the general interest of the city.

The Masonic celebration and feast of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons for the State of California, in commemoration of St. John the Baptist, takes place at Pacific Hall, on Bush street, this evening.

The Typographical Union of this city, at its meeting yesterday, admitted to membership Louisa M. Wheeler, who presented a card from the Washoe Union. This is the first lady admitted in the Union here, and makes quite a departure from the old rules.

Surveyor-General Rollins has found it necessary by reason of the smallness of the appropriation to reduce his office force one-half, though the amount of work on hand is greater than at any time during several years. The result will be much annoyance to the settlers, causing much delay in the survey of their lands.

Silver coin is six to seven per cent. discount. Trade dollars are entirely nominal at ninety-one to ninety-two cents.

The steamer Oceanian arrived this morning from China via Japan, with one of the largest cargoes ever brought to this port, the main portion of which was 37,349 packages of tea, the most of which goes overland. The news she brings is of little importance.

About three o'clock this morning as an officer was passing along Taylor street he saw a light in the lower story of a house, and upon reconnoitering stumbled upon a pair of boots in the passage. The officer sought the assistance of a brother officer and the two entered the house and surprised a couple of burglars at their work. The fellows managed to escape from the house and were pursued and fired at. One of them escaped, but the other Chas. Keller, was captured and charged with burglary.

Four new cases of small-pox were reported at the Health Office to-day. The same number were reported yesterday, and three deaths in addition.

From the fact that two of the cases occurred where all the others were healthy, and the sick ones had not been in contact with it so far as known, the health officials believe the disease to have been existing in the atmosphere and caught in that way. The first case of the present epidemic was reported on May 18th. Since that date 117 cases have appeared. Seventy of these have been removed to the hospital, and the remaining 47 have remained in the city, the houses having been quarantined, marked with the yellow flag, etc. 30 persons have died from it—16 white and 14 Chinese. Nine have died in the hospital.

WIND STORM—HEAVY DAMAGE.

CHICO, CAL., June 26th.—A strong North wind has prevailed in Colusa county for the last twenty-four hours, destroying several thousand dollars worth of property. Dr. Glenn's large warehouse was blown into the river at Jacinto, and 320 acres of Barley belonging to Glenn were destroyed by fire last night. Two men were fatally stabbed at Jacinto last night while on a drunken spree.

west than the base of the hills. For fear that it would deprecate the low lands, the Council once refused to let Mr. Beaudry put up a windmill to get water on the hills, and there never has been a dollar's worth of work done at the expense of the city from the base of the hills westward, notwithstanding the fact that the private means and enterprise of the two parties spoken of in the Republican, in reference to the bridges, have raised the assessed value of these lands from $75,000 to $200,000 dollars over what it was assessed at previous to their improvements.

Now, Mr. Editor, if the Common Council of the city of Los Angeles don't like this article I will give them another pretty soon, similar to the Hobb's Rancho case.

Signed, sealed and delivered by

J. W. POTTS.

Complaint of High Charges.

EDITOR HERALD:—I wish to ask the favor of a short space in your columns to make a statement which I think will be of some interest to the traveling public. On Saturday evening myself, wife and baby went to Santa Monica and put up at the Santa Monica Hotel, kept by Chapman & Hough. We had supper, a room, breakfast, and my wife and child, dinner. No extras whatever. About three o'clock Sunday afternoon I called for my bill; and, to my smazement, the reply was, "nine dollars, sir."

"What? Nine dollars?"

"Yes, certainly, nine dollars."

I am aware that there is a good deal of extravagant charging going on, but I certainly did not expect to find the business practiced under the guise of keeping a public hotel at Santa Monica. There are other stopping places in that town where the public can be entertained without being literally fleeced, where better meals and better accommodations can be obtained at reasonable rates. Better meals can be had in this city at several restaurants for twenty-five cents, than can be had at the institution kept by Chapman & Hough.

Very respectfully,

H. W. ROSE.

Los Angeles, June 26, 1876.

The Oil Bonanza.

EDITOR HERALD:—It seems that success has at last crowned the efforts of the Star Oil Company. They have struck a flowing well of oil on the Pico Spring yielding forty barrels per day, at a depth of less than two hundred feet, a thing unknown in the history of oil. There is no hubub about this. Any one can see for himself if he will come and do so. It continues to increase so rapidly as they sink deeper that there is scarcely any doubt that it will soon yield a hundred barrels per day. The Refinery at Lyons Station is running day and night, and its capacity will soon be increased. Boring will be commenced on the Hughes' well as soon as the road now being constructed is completed. As it is on the same belt as the Pico oil well, there is scarcely any doubt that they will strike oil. The hidden wealth beneath these mountains will soon be brought to light and will light many a house and hall in the future. It will throw out a brilliant light, that will soon attract considerable attention, and will guide the capitalist and speculator to our district and add wealth and prosperity to our country.

W. A. BROPHY.

Oil District, June 25th, 1876.

A painful scene was witnessed on the return train from Santa Monica Sunday night. A man named Bailey, who was bitten by a tarantula a year ago, was taken with violent convulsions and it required the united exertions of Marshal Carrillo and another gentleman to hold him. The convulsions continued at intervals during the entire trip, though between the spasms he was conscious and talked sensibly. When the train arrived he was lifted into a hack writhing in convulsions.

Jeff

Our friend Mr. Knight, from San Gabriel, was in town yesterday. He is in great hopes of establishing an Eastern colony there. A school house to cost $7,000 is to be built, and arrangements are on foot for a hotel capacity of sixty rooms. We wish him success.

Jeff

A Los Angeles correspondent, writing to a San Diego paper, says: I have visited Santa Monica. The population is thin except on Sundays, when the crowd comes down from Los Angeles. There are a good many "to let" signs staring you in the face. What is going to make a great city of this I cannot yet see.

Jeff

Hayes and Wheeler are the Republican nominees for President and Vice-President, and the Allen Sisters are the great attraction at Wood's Opera House.

Trains commenced making regular trips to Indian Wells yesterday. The round trip is accomplished in about twenty hours, and includes a stoppage of an hour or more at the terminus. By keeping two sets of train and two engines on the line, with alternating departures, one complement of cars is made to an almost constant duty. The two Conductors are G. G. Brown and Wm. Sippy.

Jeff

The members of the Anti-Coolie Club of this city are determined to do their share of agitating the question of abrogating the Burlingame Treaty. They will hold a public meeting at the end of the Court House, fronting on Main street, on Wednesday evening, June 28th. Able speakers will address the meeting and set forth the grievances of the working people.

Jeff

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Centennial celebration, Saturday afternoon, reports were received from all the other committees, which showed that the work was progressing satisfactorily. The Grand Marshal was ordered to arrange and publish the programme of parade, and $100 were appropriated to the Fire Department to aid them in getting up a torchlight procession Fourth of July night. The Executive Committee took the matter in hand itself of hiring the hacks, carriages, etc., for the officers of the day and the invited guests. Four bands of music have been engaged, and everything promises a magnificent celebration of our Centennial anniversary. The Executive Committee adjourned to meet at the call of the Chairman.

Amusements.

WOOD'S OPERA HOUSE.

Public expectation has been on tip-toe since the announcement that the Allen Sisters would appear at this popular place of amusement. Their debut in our city was greeted by a full house and a more enthusiastic reception could not have been accorded them. The first part of the entertainment was given by members of the former company, and some very capital hits were made. Miss Amy Powel in singing, "Down by the Old Mill Stream," received a hearty encore. Miss Powell is a constant favorite.

When four of the little sisters dressed upon the stage they appeared like fairies or Nymphs of the Danube, as they are called, and every graceful posture and motion tended to confirm the illusion. As ballet dancers, they certainly have no superiors on the Pacific Coast, and the merit is better appreciated when it is known that their ages range from about five to ten. The succeeding parts of the programme were well played, and included "Pas de Quarte la Escosia" by the Allen Sisters, banjo solo by Harry Senate, and ballads by Miss Minnie Ross, the whole concluding with the laughable act entitled "Blunders."

As matters now stand, Confidence Engine Company will carry the "fox-tail" in the Fourth of July parade.

The thermometer stood at ninety yesterday noon.

Mr. Frank House, formerly Conductor on the Colton branch of the S. P. R. R., is in the city.

The old company of Wood's Opera House left yesterday to play an engagement in Anaheim.

As matters now stand, Confidence Engine Company will carry the "fox-tail" in the Fourth of July parade.

We regret to learn that Mrs. Ryan, wife of Mr. Ryan of the Opera House, is dangerously ill.

Our friend Chapman, of the Santa Monica Hotel, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. S. L. Dewey returned by the overland route from San Francisco last night.

The I. L. & L. C. held a meeting last night and transacted business relative to the release of the Fenian prisoners.

The Pico House is about to be repainted outside and will receive many other improvements. An elevator is spoken of for the convenience of its guests. More anon.
